A.S.E.R.T. Marks 5 Years Service

The AuSable Emergency Radio Team marks five years service and aid to Crawford County in September.

The group comprises local citizen band radio operators who banded together in 1969 to make use of their radio equipment and knowledge for the benefit of the people of Grayling and surrounding area.

Local residents will see members of the team working with local police and sheriff's deputies at all public gatherings and parades, where they assist these departments on traffic and crowd control.

A.S.E.R.T. has been working with the Grayling Police Department since 1969, and the Crawford County Sheriff's Department since 1973.

Its members have participated in Search and Rescue operations in Roscommon, Montmorency, Otsego, and Crawford Counties.

Most members are trained in First Aid to the injured as taught by the American Red Cross.

A.S.E.R.T. recently loaned a 23 channel base CB radio to the Crawford Co. Sheriff's Department, and future plans are to purchase and install a new CB antenna system to replace the existing one.

MEMORIAL—Inscription on the Jim Wakeley memorial plaque reads: "In Memory of Jim Wakeley, 1919-1973. Dedicated to all who love and respect this river as he did." Plaque is on a stone estimated to weigh five tons. Stone was put in place through the cooperation and aid of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Dedication of the memorial is scheduled for 4 p.m. this Saturday, August 17.

The dedication of the Jim Wakeley Memorial has now definitely been scheduled for four p.m., this coming Saturday, August 17. This is a change from the time and date announced in last week's Avalanche.

The memorial plaque, set in a stone weighing approximately five tons, was arranged for by friends of the late Jim Wakeley, native born veteran guide, fisherman and businessman. Wakeley's sudden and tragic passing last fall shocked and saddened this community and his many outstate friends.

The memorial is located at what is generally called the "Lower Marshall Landing" upstream from Stephan Bridge on the north side of the river. The site, part of a tract recently donated to Trout Unlimited by the Stranahan family of Ohio, can be reached from the North Down River Road. The trail entrance is well marked by a Trout Unlimited sign.

Festival Parade

The Mill Town Festival Parade will start at the Elementary School Saturday, August 17, at 1:00 p.m. Anyone wishing to participate must be at the school no later than 12:30.

Camp Grayling Chapel Will Be Dedicated

The Camp Grayling Memorial Chapel, over five years in the planning and development stages, will be officially dedicated in ceremonies on the northern Michigan military post Thursday (August 15).

The chapel, which is located on Howe Road between the Officers' Open Mess and the camp dispensary, was conceived in May of 1969. Its construction cost, estimated at $180,000, is being paid by voluntary contributions from individual Guardsmen, Guard units and other interested persons.

According to LTC Harold A. Kirchenbauer, chaplain for the Michigan Army National Guard, the exterior of the chapel is basically completed with the exception of landscaping. However, the unique building, which features an outdoor amphitheater, still must be carpeted and furnished. This work is expected to be completed prior to annual training 1975.

The chapel dedication ceremony will begin at the building at 4 p.m. Thursday. Participants will include MG C. C. Schnipke, Adjutant General of Michigan, MG Gerhardt W. Hyatt, Chief of Chaplains, United States Army and BG Carson R. Neifert (Ret.), president of the chapel board.

Even though the chapel does not yet have its permanent furnishings, it is being used for services during the current annual training period which concludes this Saturday. The building provides a permanent place of religious worship at Camp Grayling for the first time. In prior years, chapel services have been held in a variety of tents and buildings on the post.

Deactivating Missile Battalion is Honored Michigan Guard Passes in Review

[Special to The Avalanche]

One of the Michigan Army National Guard's elite units, the 1st Battalion, 177th Air Defense Artillery, with headquarters in Detroit and firing batteries in Utica and Carleton, was honored during deactivation ceremonies at Camp Grayling Friday (August 9).

The Nike Hercules missile unit, which has been a part of the national air defense system since 1954, was formally deactivated and its members honored with various service medals during the annual review and memorial service of the Michigan Army National Guard.

Also honored during the ceremony at the Camp Grayling parade field were Battery B, 1st Battalion, 119th Field Artillery, Albion, the Guard's Eisenhower Trophy winner for 1973-74 (the trophy is presented to the best all-around unit of the Army Guard); Colonel Russell A. Hagerman of Lansing, director of operations and training for the Michigan Army Guard; and The Detroit News' and Three Rivers Commercial' newspapers. Colonel Hagerman, who is scheduled to retire in the near future, was awarded the Army Legion of Merit for his military service. The newspapers were cited for their coverage of military news during the past year.

Presenting awards was Michigan Lieutenant Governor, James H. Brickley who also delivered the annual message to the nearly 5,000 Guardsmen in training at Camp Grayling through Aug. 17. Lt. Gov. Brickley was assisted with the awards by Major General C.C. Schnipke, Adjutant General, who participated in the review and memorial service for the last time as commander of the Michigan National Guard. General Schnipke will retire at the end of 1974 after 44 years of military service.

During the memorial service portion of the program, 32 Guardsmen who have died since the last annual training period were honored with a [see Review on page 14]

Guardstrike VI Starts With A Sonic Zoom

[Special to The Avalanche]

Sentry Guardstrike VI, the combined arms exercise of the Michigan Army and Air National Guards, now underway at Camp Grayling, was kicked off with a sonic zoom early morning Aug. 12 when F-100 fighter planes of the Air Guard made "aggressor" strikes on the Camp Grayling airfield and cantonment area.

The supersonic jets made low level strikes over the airfield and cantonment area between 0630 and 0700, shaking the ground-bound Guardsmen out of their bunks and causing a lot of conversation from Guardsmen not involved in the exercise.

Sentry Guardstrike VI, the first tactical exercise involving both the Army and Air Guard ever conducted at Camp Grayling will peak Thursday morning, Aug. 15 with infantry units of the 47th Brigade in the attack, supported by artillery, armor and aircraft. A demon- [see Sonic on page 13]

Three Weekend Bavarian Festival Scheduled at Houghton Lake

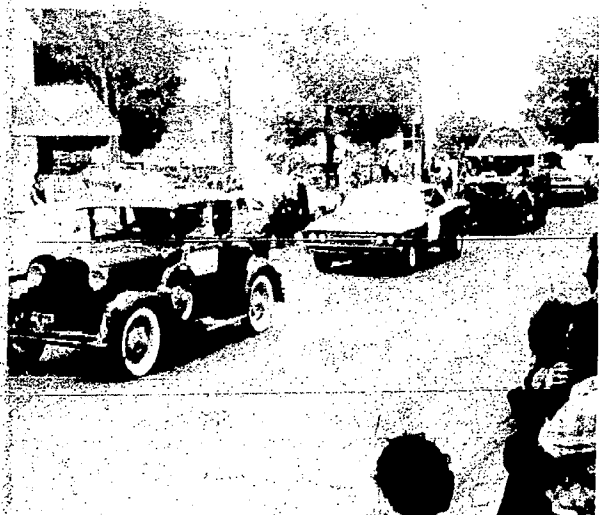

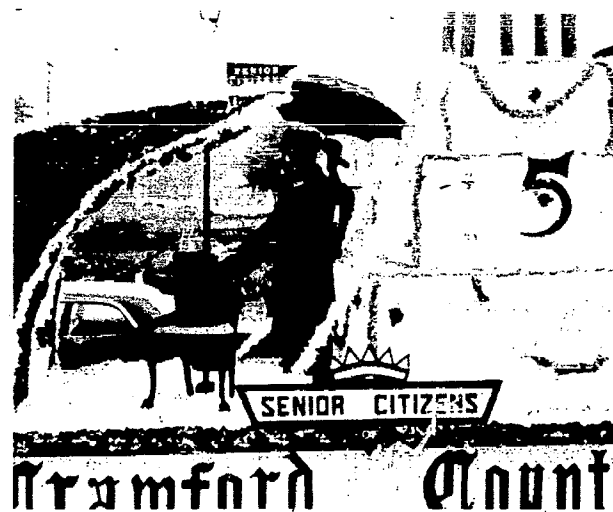

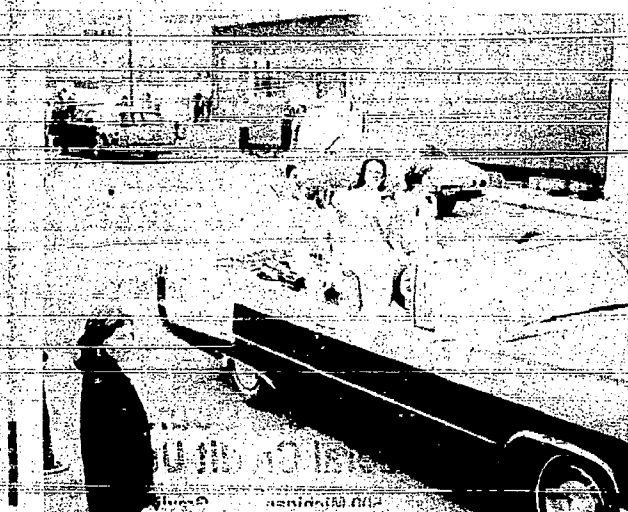

The last three weekends of August, which include Labor Day weekend, promise to be spectacular times at Prudenville on Houghton Lake with the First Bavarian Festival. The Bavarian Festival was the idea of Raymond R. Huffmaster, a progressive and enthusiastic businessman in Prudenville who has made all of the arrangements and investments alone.

Mr. Huffmaster is the owner of the Bavarian Haus, formerly the Alpine Inn in Prudenville. On the agenda each weekend is a professional Bavarian Band, which will play in a tent behind the Bavarian Haus in Prudenville at the Junction of M-55 [see Bavarian on page 14]

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, AUGUST 15, 1974

Thank You, Congress

Fortunately, one of the bills that Congress has failed to pass so far is one that would provide $800 million in federal or, if you prefer, taxpayers' money over a period of eight years to states willing to set up land-use planning regulations according to federal guidelines. Getting down to specifics, what such a law means is that there would be a federal planner in Washington, D.C. telling your state planner to tell your county planner whether you can build that house on the five acres you would like to buy from the farmer down the road if he is allowed to sell it. This may be an oversimplification, but it is not too far off the mark.

One of the few rights private property owners have left is that of paying taxes. When it comes to using their land for any productive purpose, landowners already find that county or state land-use planning agencies have the final word. Appeals are likely to fall on deaf ears regardless of financial loss. A bad situation would have become instantly worse with federal guidelines and 800 million federal dollars. Thank you, Congress, for sitting this one out.

Same Old Bear

As the United States continues to pursue a policy of detente with the USSR, the traditional gap between the communist world and the West appears to be narrowing on many fronts, from cooperative space exploration ventures to trade agreements. Even the crews from Russian fishing trawlers are being granted shore leave in West Coast sea ports.

It might be wise at this point to review the words of V. I. Lenin, the father of Soviet communism. He is quoted in the "Leader" of Garner, Iowa as having said, "When the capitalist world starts to trade with us—on that day they will begin to finance their own destruction." Just think about it! The great wheat deal, so favorable to the Soviet Union, was a clear indication that the Russian bear should be watched closely in any future get-togethers.

NEW HAVEN, IND., ALLEN COUNTY TIMES: "Sometimes it seems that 'permissiveness' is getting way out of line. In a...court case of a man charged with kidnapping and molesting young girls, the defending attorney said he wouldn't have done it if they hadn't been walking down the street by themselves. What kind of a defense is this? It is ridiculous that a woman should not be able to walk down the street without being kidnapped or molested. In this case, the victims were accused of wrongdoing instead of the person charged with the crimes."

TIMBER LAKE, S.D., TOPIC: "It was interesting to note some of our...legislators are complaining about the 'club' the federal government holds over the state—you know, 'if you don't do it, you'll lose federal funds.' If more people all across the nation would get sick of the 'club,' maybe we could reduce the federal debt, pay less federal income tax, and have more freedom to do things 'our way.'"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church

On the Heritage of John Wesley

Born on June 28, 1703 some one hundred miles north of London, England, John Wesley became another great Bible teacher in the tradition of Luther and Calvin. Wesley reacted to the cold ritual and form of the State Church and became the father of Methodism. At the laying of the cornerstone of the chapel named after him in Noorfields, London, Wesley expressed the central meaning and purpose of Methodism: "Not a new religion, but the old religion of the Bible..."

Wesley's reverence for the Bible is evidenced by the following words: "God Himself has condescended to teach the way: for this very end He came from heaven. He hath written it down in a book. O, give me that book! At any price, give me the book of God!"

Wesley's belief that the Bible is our only rule of faith and practice is clearly stated: "The Christian rule of right and wrong is the Word of God, the writings of the Old and New Testament...This is a lantern unto a Christian's feet, and a light in all his paths. This alone he receives as his rule of right or wrong, of whatever is good or evil...Whatever the Scripture neither forbids nor enjoins...he believes to be of an indifferent nature; to be in itself neither good nor evil; this being the whole and sole outward rule whereby his conscience is to be directed in all things."

Concerning Wesley's defense of the inerrancy and infallibility of the Bible as originally written, there is no doubt: "If there be any mistakes in the Bible; there may well be a thousand. If there be one falsehood in that book it did not come from the God of truth."

We commend all Methodist individuals who still stand for the principles upon which Methodism was founded; the Bible as the only inerrant, infallible authority of God. With the present trends which make church tradition, religious experience and human reasoning equal with the authority of the Bible, it takes a strong Bible Christian to avoid deception and stand for the truth. It takes even stronger individuals like John Wesley to break with existing religious fellowships in order to defend "the old religion of the Bible."

Soil Dist. Summer Meeting

By Louise Sullenger

About 400 persons are expected to attend the three-day Summer Meeting of Michigan Soil Conservation Districts to be held at Houghton Lake, September 5, 6, and 7.

District Directors and office personnel from the 83 Districts throughout Michigan are expected to attend. The meeting will be at Bill Oliver's Lakefront Motor Lodge, Prudenville.

George Bagley, of Louisiana, and President of the National Association of Conservation Districts, will be the keynote speaker. His topic has not been announced. Mrs. Mary Dearborn, Birmingham, an Oakland County Commissioner, will talk to the group about "Some Food for Thought on Soil Conservation District Governing Bodies." B. Dale Ball, Director, Michigan Department of Agriculture has titled his speech, "A Look Ahead for Soil Conservation Districts in Michigan."

This is the first meeting Michigan SCD has held at Houghton Lake. It was brought here through the efforts of local District Directors and Chairman Houghton (Bud) King, of the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District. Because of its easy accessibility from all areas of the state it is hoped the summer meeting here will become a yearly event.

Local Directors will receive recognition from Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, as the second place winner among Michigan Districts for its unique and far-reaching program in the field on conservation. In 1973, the period the Goodyear Award covers, the Roscommon County Road Commission was recognized by the local SCD for its work in erosion control. This agency will also receive recognition from Goodyear for its efforts.

District Directors in addition to King, are Fred Swaffer and Andie Neilson, both of Crawford County, and Louise Sullenger and Brian Willette, both of Roscommon County.

The ins & outs of Camp LaVictoire

BY JOSHUA CARPENTER

A typical day for a boy at Camp LaVictoire is quite full. From Monday through Friday they observe a regular routine of physical work, education and recreation. 6:30 a.m. they get up. 7:00 a.m. Breakfast. 7:30 a.m. Clean up their area. 8:00 a.m. On Crew Work (on one of 5 DNR work crews or in the Camp itself). 3:00 p.m. Back to Camp. Classes start, either in Camp or at Kirtland Community College, and also a broad range of recreational and leisure activities. 10:30 p.m. Lights Out.

Classes that the boys can take include Building Trades, Cook and Baker course, Welding, Driver Education, Service Station Attendant Course, Auto Service and school courses at his individual academic level. The vocational courses are 12 weeks in length and consist of both classroom work and practical experience. Each course is designed to prepare the boy to assume employment in that particular area. The boys are presented with a certificate upon the satisfactory completion of the course.

Although the boys at Camp LaVictoire are between the physical ages of 14 and 17, their social and emotional skills are often less mature. Their average reading ability is 5.8 (5th year, 8th month of school). Their IQ is basically in the average range but because of an emotional block, their environment, accessibility to drugs or a spur of the moment response they have been adjudicated as delinquent and are at Camp LaVictoire to figure out who they are and where they're going in life.

Many of the boys work toward their G.E.D. (Graduate Equivalency Degree). The Camp Staff includes two full-time teachers. There are roughly 3 boys to each professional Camp Staff Member.

Each boy at Camp LaVictoire goes through an O.D. (Overdose) Course and a First Aid Course.

The remedial Course is designed to help a youth catch up in reading, math, and other survival skills such as how to fill out a Job Application.

Let the other guy quit

In my hometown, officials are currently disagreeing over who should pay to fix up the old railroad depot.

Which is similar to fighting over the cost of carpeting running boards.

Amtrak is restoring passenger service through our county but it says it won't stop here because our depot is too rundown and ugly. But for a few thousand bucks worth of paint and paving, they'll change their mind. Golly gee.

For 75 years, that depot was plenty good enough. And that was when people were using it. Now nobody takes the train. That's why it quit stopping here a few years ago. So Amtrak says pretty up the depot or they won't use it.

I haven't felt so intimidated since a sergeant told me to clean my rifle or he wouldn't shoot me with it.

The energy shortage was supposed to restore the popularity of passenger trains. You remember the energy shortage. That was when you drove into a gas station and nobody cleaned your windshield. If you complained, the gasoline company said the men who used to clean windshields were now offshore, drilling.

That's why gasoline now costs 30 cents more a gallon. It costs more to drill for oil than it does to wipe windshields. And you should thank God gas now costs more because this means the friendly Standard dealer on your corner will never wear a turban and ride to work on a camel.

The gasoline shortage is over now, which is a remarkable thing. Gas is a fossil fuel, so there has to be less gas in the world today than there was during the shortage. But today there's plenty of gasoline to buy and no long lines at the pumps. It just costs more now. And that's how cynics are born.

Sure, you should think of your great grandchildren. If you spend your life driving to work alone, they may spend their lives trying to bum rides on that Standard dealer's camel. We have to run out of gasoline some day.

I asked a car dealer if he didn't think people should ride trains today so his great grandchildren won't have to walk tomorrow. He didn't.

"Let them dig up their own energy. They'll think of something. We've got gasoline today and I want it, or I can't sell cars. Everybody wants it. Nobody wants to worry about their great grandchildren's transportation," he said.

Yeah. That's why it would be dumb to spend dough on our old depot. Nobody is going to use it. Paint applied today will be all flecked away by the time your great grandchildren come by, following the rickety railroad tracks to see if they lead to the edge of the earth. They may discover India.

Everybody knows the way to avoid a gasoline shortage is to quit burning so much of it. But let the other guy quit. You expect more from Standard and you're going to get it, by God.

Meanwhile, back at the depot, they should forget today and build for the future. How about hitching posts? †

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I hired a baby sitter to take care of my child while I went out looking for a job. Is this expense deductible?

A. Yes. A person may deduct child care expenses incurred while in the actual search for gainful employment as well as those incurred while working. For details on the limitations applicable to the child care deduction, see IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. I paid $50 to attend a dinner to raise funds for a political candidate. Is the entire cost of the ticket deductible or do I have to subtract the value of the meal to arrive at my deduction?

A. The entire cost of the ticket to the political dinner is eligible for a deduction or credit if the dinner is clearly in the context of a campaign of an eligible candidate and is not primarily a device to confer private benefit in the form of meals or entertainment to the contributor. Otherwise, the contribution includes only the excess of the amount paid over the fair market value of the meal and entertainment.

Qualified political contributions may be deducted up to $50, ($100 if married filing jointly) or one half may be taken as a credit against your tax up to $12.50 ($25 if married filing jointly).

Q. How do you report dividends received on mutual fund shares?

A. It all depends on the type of dividend you receive from the fund. Ordinary dividends or taxable dividends are the most common type and any dividends you receive can be assumed to be an ordinary dividend unless the fund indicates otherwise. Except for the first $100 of such dividends which generally may be excluded from income, ordinary dividends are fully taxable.

Some funds distribute capital gain dividends. These are treated as "long term" capital gains and are taxed at a more favorable rate than ordinary dividends. However, these capital gain dividends do not qualify for the $100 dividend exclusion.

A fund distribution not out of earnings and profits is not taxed. It is a return of your investment, or capital, in stock of the mutual fund. A mutual fund will notify you on Form 1099-DIV or by written notice as to the amount of gross dividends, capital gain dividends, return of capital, etc., that you must report on your income tax return.

For more details, see IRS Publication 504, "Tax Information on Mutual Fund Distributions." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. Can condominium owners deduct amounts paid for real estate taxes and mortgage interest?

A. Yes. If you itemize deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040), such payments are deductible.

Are we losing religious tone of democracy?

Before the graduation season completely passes from the scene, let us take note of a high school commencement in Henrico County, Virginia.

A federal judge ruled that prayers at the Douglas Freeman high school in Henrico County are peripheral to the main event of graduation and therefore do not infringe on the principle of separation of church and state.

Three graduating seniors, and their parents, objected that an invocation and benediction were improper, but Federal Judge Robert Merhige said these traditional elements of graduation did not "embroil government in religious matters."

Good enough. And even fie on the students and their Little League type parents for even bringing up the question.

As that wise man once said, as long as there are final exams, there will always be prayers in school.

While we're in the general area of life and religion, Clare Boothe Luce had some recent comments which struck a responsive chord with me.

Mrs. Luce has been author, Congressman, ambassador, and involved in a host of public and private activities. In an interview published in U.S. News and World Report, she made these points:

"No man can live and no society can survive for very long without a religion and a faith of some sort that explains man's nature and the meaning of his life and death."

"...the history of civilization is the history of society's religions. By 'religion' I mean any system of thought and belief that ties things together and gives a society something which explains to its satisfaction the meaning of life and death, of good and evil, and of man's own nature."

"Communism was such a religion to many young people in my youth," Mrs. Luce continues. "So, in Germany, was Nazism."

"It's hard to make a religion of democracy, because it's such a flexible system. Besides, democracy as we know it in the West is the political formulation of our Judeo-Christian ideas about the nature of man."

"We are bound to lose democracy in proportion as we desert our Judeo-Christian religious beliefs and values. And I'm afraid that may be what is happening now."

Some deep thoughts, and some provoking ones, from the widow of the former Time-Life publishing czar.

What is so sobering is the realization that there may just be more than a kernel of truth in what Mrs. Luce is saying.

Democracy, as she is using the term, is based on the premise that men are created equal, and have equal rights...that responsibility to the community is part of the price we each pay for life itself...that the loss of one man or one man's rights diminishes all men.

Democracy depends on application of Judeo-Christian principles of honesty, and diligence, and dedication, and concern, and fairness, and self-dignity, and independence, and respect for both self and others.

Will it last in the United States? Can what began as a noble experiment, as some historians have called it, survive its third century?

Many observers, such as Mrs. Luce, can see signs of stumbling. She warns that democracy will be lost "in proportion as we desert our Judeo-Christian religious beliefs and values."

Those complaining students and parents at Douglas Freeman high school might well take note of what is really happening around the country these days.

Bixler-Wakeley Speak Vows

On Saturday, July 27, Therese Marie Bixler & Joseph Vance Wakeley were united in marriage at Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bixler of Westland and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Junior Wakeley of Grayling. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul C. Frederick. Miss Tricia Nethers sang "Bobby's Song" before the ceremony and Arthur Wakeley, Jr. and Tricia sang "One Hand, One Heart" after the vows were exchanged.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of nylon organza trimmed with Venice lace. It was styled with an empire waistline with sheer yoke and sleeves, also accented with lace. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Mrs. Mary Wabeke of Toledo, Ohio attended her friend as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sandy Fleming of Grayling and Cindy Bair of Paw Paw. They wore floor length gowns of blue floral print with short, puffed sleeves and ruffled u-neckline and carried bouquets of mixed garden flowers.

Denise Bixler, sister of the bride, and Susan Schofield, niece of the groom, were flower girls.

Arthur Wakeley, Jr. attended his brother as best man, with George Itterink of Denver, Colorado and Mike Gardner of Grayling serving as groomsmen. John Schofield Jr., nephew of the groom, and Terry Bixler, brother of the bride, were the ushers. Doug Schofield, another nephew of the groom, assisted the ushers.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served in the Church Fellowship Hall. The women of the church helped with the serving.

Upon returning from their honeymoon trip to Toronto, Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Wakeley will make their home in Grayling.

Firewood Buying Cues

By Willard Bosserman, County Extension Director
 Fall and winter are coming. To save money when buying fireplace wood, consider cost and amount of heat produced. Then choose the right time to buy.

Late summer or early fall is the time to buy, according to Michigan State University Forestry Extension Specialist Mel Koelling. This will allow the new wood to season properly.

For a fire that's hot and long burning, Koelling recommends hardwoods. Oak and hickory are excellent heat-producing hardwoods. We have lots of oak, but not too much hickory.

Good medium-heat producers are ash, beech, maple, elm and birch. Aspen and pine are softwoods and low-heat producers.

Several fruit trees, such as cherry and apple, burn in different colors. A load of mixed wood will produce an even, desirable heat at a reasonable price.

Prices vary according to types of wood and the seller, says Koelling. Generally, hardwoods cost the most, followed by the medium-heat producers and the softwoods. Frequently you can find individual sellers in the local want ads for medium priced wood. Lumber mills are a cheap source but are limited in their firewood operations. Supermarkets and hardware stores sell some wood, but it is expensive.

After the purchase, stack the wood so that the air can flow through the pile. The wood will burn hotter and cleaner.

One house in which I lived, I had a pile of wood stacked near the garage which received very little sunlight. It was constantly wet, therefore did not burn at all. When I have an opportunity, I store my firewood under cover. This was in my basement at one time and in my garage at another time.

Prices vary from five dollars a cord on up. In the really big cities I understand people are paying twenty-five dollars or more per cord.

What is a cord? Generally a cord of wood is a pile of wood four feet high, four feet wide and eight feet long. But, firewood is usually two feet or less in length so you buy a short cord. It is usually a pile four feet high, eight feet long and as wide as the wood is cut, usually about two feet. It's really a half cord isn't it?

 Crawford County Board of Commissioners

 Mr. Patrick Harwood

 Grayling, MI. 49738

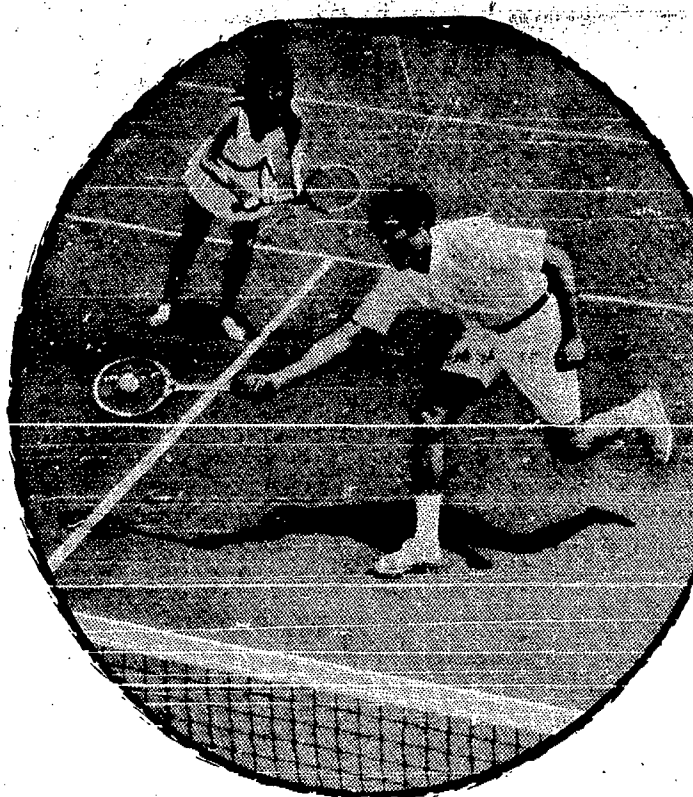

Pat:
 A belated expression of "congratulations" on your successful primary win for County Commissioner - District 2.

Having served almost six years for my District, I know you too will find county work to be stimulating, informative, and extremely educational. You will also find that it is very time consuming. But it is always worthwhile and satisfying when you feel or know that your accomplishments have meant benefits for the people of Crawford County.

Our regular Board sessions are on the second Monday of each month...with two exceptions...those being the months of April and October.

To acquaint yourself with the various programs, and to make for a more orderly transition of change come January 1st, 1975. I would think it advisable for you to attend every monthly session that you can beginning this coming Monday, August 12th. Sessions begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. I know that I would have appreciated such an opportunity back in 1968.

EASIER WITHOUT THE NET

Why do we enjoy games that make it harder on us? We equip our tennis courts with nets. We line our golf courses with narrow fairways and dot them with sand traps. On a chess board we grant wide movement to only one piece, the queen. In football a team has but four downs to gain the required yardage.

This is because man at his best is innately honest. He demands that his every skill meet reasonable tests. He's convinced there is no satisfaction—no "fun"—without challenges.

Man's religious awareness, which inspires our weekly worship, continually cultivates that innate honesty. Our Christian faith prompts us to develop divine resources of character and commitment. Far more than any game, LIFE tests strength and weakness, rewards achievement not failure.

The unit contacted Crawford County officials early last spring to plan and coordinate the projects in hopes of providing a meaningful service to the community, as well as providing "excellent Civil Affairs training for members of the 309th.

Some of the services being provided Crawford County are in the areas of public safety, public education, public health and arts monuments and archi-

New Directory For Gen-Tel

General Telephone's new directory, which features a scenic fall view of northern Michigan's Mullet Lake on the cover, is now being distributed to customers in the communities of Grayling, Higgins Lake, Houghton Lake and Roscommon, according to Wait Hansen, division manager for the company. There are 8,811 directories included in the distribution.

The directory does include one major revision and the distribution procedure has been changed, he said. The revision was made to include an explanation of long distance rates on Page 5.

"We have modified the long distance rate explanation to show customers more clearly what the basic rates are within Michigan as well as to points outside of Michigan," Hansen said. "We also point out how customers can save by calling at certain times of the day and by dialing direct."

The company has introduced a new policy for the distribution of directories to residences based in part on paper costs and for ecological reasons, Hansen said.

"Each residence will get one directory for each primary telephone and one additional if they have two or more extensions," he said.

Previously, one additional directory was provided for each extension.

"We have found that many of the extra directories were not being used and simply added to a disposal problem," Hansen said.

If a customer needs additional directories beyond the maximum of two delivered at the residence, he can request them at the time of delivery or from the business office. Customers are still limited to no more directories than they have telephones, however.

He said there were no additional format changes. The directory includes an alphabetical index and table of contents on the inside cover and a list for frequently called numbers appears on the inside back cover as before.

Hansen said a place to write in emergency numbers is again located on Page One where the numbers will be readily accessible in an emergency.

An explanation of the types of calls customers can make—customer dialed DDD, station-to-station, person-to-person, conference, collect, overseas or mobile and marine calls—is located (on page 5) (on the inside back cover).

The Michigan State law concerning threatening, obscene, nuisance or harassment calls is also explained in the new directory as well as the procedure to follow in cases where the statute is violated.

Before replacing an old directory with the new edition, Hansen suggests customers carefully check through the old one.

"Often important papers, letters and even money are placed in the telephone directory for safe keeping and then forgotten," he said. "Also, customers may want to transfer the list of frequently called numbers from the old directory to the new one."

The photograph of Mullet Lake, located near the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula, was furnished by the Michigan Tourist Council. It is the first Michigan scene to appear on a General Telephone directory cover.

Questions concerning the directory, or any other phase of telephone service, should be directed to the General Telephone service office at Gaylord, Hansen said.

Policyholder Questions Answered by
The Institute of Life Insurance, 277
Park Ave., N. Y., N. Y., 10017

A good friend of mine recently suffered a severe heart attack. After I got over the shock I realized that I do not have enough life insurance to protect my family. I can't afford more right now, but is there any way I can be sure to get more insurance as I add to my income, no matter what my health is then? I am 34 years old.

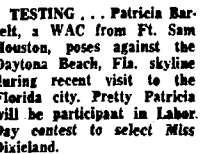

A. Yes, there are several things you can do.

To start, you can purchase a renewable convertible term insurance at a low rate, possibly a fourth the cost of straight life at your present age, then plan to convert it to a straight life plan when you can afford it. This would give you the additional insurance now.

Another way to meet this would be to see if you can add a guaranteed insurability clause to your present policy (if you are under 27 or some other specified age, depending on your company). This provision, which is relatively inexpensive, guarantees that a policyholder can purchase additional amounts on or before specified future dates.

A man your age, for instance, could buy additional insurance equal to the original policy at age 37 and again at age 40. (A young man could purchase up to six optional purchase dates.)

We suggest that you check over the insurance you now have with your agent to see if there is some way to get the needed insurance right now inexpensively. For example, the purchase of a family income rider to an existing policy would, in effect, double your protection at a small additional cost.

ENERGY SAVING "CLOCK"—A thermostat that automatically controls temperatures within a home and can help save energy is now available to homeowners through heating and cooling contractors and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company offices. Called the Honeywell Chronotherm Clock Thermostat, the device replaces existing thermostats to central heating and air conditioning units. The chronotherm can be set to automatically dial down room temperatures during the night and automatically raise them during winter daylight hours, and works in the opposite way with central air conditioning units during the summer. Michigan Consolidated engineers say it can save up to 10% annually in energy consumption.

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAVIS

Forecast Period: August 18 to August 24

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Take care! It seems as though you'll traffic with someone whose thoughts are in the shade. Anyway, there's a strange twist of mystery and intrigue, to this week's events.

TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20 Decisions based on hearsay are deadly. Meaning? Something you hear, could indeed, involve you with some questionable activities linked to a younger person of the opposite sex.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20 The planet Saturn could influence you in such a way—that others will believe that you have undergone a change of personality. The point? Keep friendships in tact!

MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22 Events, this week, take on a surprising twist. According to your chart, an unexpected, unplanned situation, will turn from a setback—to a money making proposition!

LEO July 23 - Aug. 22 This week's events take on a strange twist. Something you do... will trigger popularity among several of your associates—but, cause cold indifference among others.

VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Once again! In one form or another, old emotional ties will be renewed. It would be a good idea to let "bygones be bygones!"

LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 A routine associate might surprise you with a few gestures that ring with romantic overtones. The point? Ignore any suggestive overtures.

SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 Take on a philosophical attitude toward a superior's indecisiveness. Bluntly, it would be a good idea to avoid becoming too involved with someone in authority.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 Your sixth sense, or whatever you care to call it... is at a high level. More than likely, you're going to be accurate on things that will surprise—even you!

CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 Many members of your sign face a week of important decision making. Here's the point. Whatever you do, seek professional advice before you act or commit yourself.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 All things considered, this should be a favorable week. Incidentally, in one form or another, you'll get in a few "brownie points!"

PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 According to your chart, it's time to take advantage of a social contact. Bluntly, recruit as many friends and allies as possible. You'll need help.

stration of firepower provided by the jet fighter planes of the Air Guard will be staged on the Range 34 impact area. The firepower show will be observed by brigade infantrymen from the Rosecrans, Lothrop and Thayer observation posts. Any Guardsmen not directly involved in the operation who wish to observe the firepower demonstration, which will include the firing of rockets, cannon and machineguns as well as bombing runs, must clear through the brigade tactical operations center at Bear Lake.

Air support for SENTRY GUARDSTRIKE VI is being provided by Air Guard units from 13 states as well as by Marine and Naval Reserve air units from Selfridge Air National Guard Base. Planes involved include two groups of F-100 tactical fighters, a squadron of A-37 close air support jets, two groups of KC-97 refueling tankers and about 16 O-2 spotter planes. Tactical air control (TAC) parties supporting the infantry battalions receive requests for air support from the battalion commanders. The TAC parties relay the support request to the direct air support center (DASC) which relays it to the tactical air control center (TACC) which is located at Phelps-Collins Field, Alpena. The TACC either approves or denies the request. If approved, the support aircraft are scrambled and the 123rd Tactical Control Squadron from Cincinnati, Ohio, located at the Camp Grayling Airfield, is notified. The 123rd "hands off" the jet fighters to the forward air controller aircraft, the O-2s, and the O-2s direct the jets to the target.

The combined arms exercise lends a sense of combat realism to the training now taking place at Camp Grayling as those who were shaken out of bed by the thundering jets early Monday morning will testify.

Bicycle Rodeo This Friday

Residents of the Grayling area should plan to be in the downtown area this Friday evening, August 16 at 6:30 p.m. for at that time the Crawford AuSable Community Schools Program will sponsor their Second Annual Bicycle Rodeo as part of Grayling's Milltown Festival. The rodeo will begin with all riders taking part in a Grand Bicycle Parade with a trophy to be given to the rider with the bicycle best decorated in the style of the Milltown Festival. The Grand Bicycle Parade will be followed by five events of speed and action in which riders in two different age classes will compete against the stop-watch for trophies.

Anyone planning to ride in Friday's rodeo must be on hand for the registration and bicycle safety inspection which will be held at the Grayling Middle School Friday morning beginning at 9:00 a.m. All riders must ride in the parade of decorated bicycles however, no bicycle may be decorated prior to the safety inspection. The safety inspection will be conducted by members of the Grayling City Police.

Fly Casting Contest

Area youngsters are invited to participate in a fly casting contest to be held in the City Park on Friday, August 16th, at 10:00 a.m.

As part of their program to interest beginning fishermen in the art of fly fishing, the local Chapter of Trout Unlimited is sponsoring this event. There will be no entry fee and trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place in each of three age groups.

Beginning fly casters are urged to participate for everyone who enters has a chance to be among the winners. Competition will be with others their own age and with the same amount of experience. Instructions will be available, fishing tackle will be provided and there will be time for some practice casting before the contest begins.

Kiwanian - Rotarian Raft Race

The Grayling Kiwanis Club and the Grayling Rotary Club are at it again. The Rotarians have challenged the Kiwanians to another raft race. This exciting spectacle will again be held on the AuSable River between the railroad bridge and the new foot bridge at the City Park, Saturday, August 17, at 3:00 p.m.

The first team for the Kiwanis Club, consisting of Lorne Douglas, Earl Burns, Art Clough, Chuck McNally and Eric Post, decided that the Rotarians offered them no competition and are turning the raft over to the second team again. The second team is made up of Carol Adkinson, Joe LaGrow, Paul Smith, Jerry Walker and Mary Zimmerman.

Once again Harold Hatfield will manage the Kiwanis team. It was through Hatfield's excellent coaching that the Kiwanians so soundly defeated the Rotarians on July 4th. Let us not forget the primary reason for this exciting event, which is to raise funds for the charitable work that both clubs are so well known for. A collection will be taken during the race with all proceeds going directly to charitable causes. Please make it a point to be there and give generously. Thank you.

Joe LaGrow, Secretary
Grayling Kiwanis Club

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bovee

Mrs. Robert Dent of Wilcox Bridge Rd. entertained the Past Noble Grand Club of Lottie A. Rebekah Lodge of West Branch at a 12:30 luncheon on Wednesday, August 7th. Fourteen members were present, and all enjoyed card games following the business meeting.

Ben Pankow of California, a former resident of Grayling, visited his brother-in-law, the Earl Broadbents, recently. It was his first visit here in 36 years and he met many of his old friends and marveled at the changes and growth which has taken place in the old home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Fick went to Flint over the weekend for Mrs. Fick's high school class reunion. On the way back, they stopped to see Jack Millikin at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw. Scott Fick and grandfather, John Fick, went to Gaylord Wednesday and brought back a Holstein bull calf.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for all the kindness and thoughtfulness while I was a patient at Mayo Clinic; especially for all the cards and prayers and all the calls of friends since I've been home.

silent tribute and memorial prayer.

The review included a 19 gun salute to Lt. Gov. Brickley fired by the honor battery of the 119th Field Artillery from Albion, motorized and marching reviews of the 13 major units in training at Grayling, and flyovers by aircraft of both the Army and Air National Guard. In a combined arms exercise, jet fighter planes of the Air Guard, for the first time at Camp Grayling, are providing direct air support for training of the Army Guard during the Aug. 3-17 encampment.

The commander of troops for the annual review and memorial service, which was observed by several hundred visitors to the military post, was Brigadier General Joseph H. Ritzheim of Saginaw, commander of the 46th Brigade, 38th Infantry Division, with headquarters in Wyoming.

4-H Club Leaders Needed

by Betty Webb, 4-H Aide

On August 27, 1974 there will be a leader training meeting for all persons interested in becoming 4-H Club leaders. Everyone is invited to attend. The meeting will be held at the former Women's Club building, across from Ray's Canoe Livery on Ingham Street.

4-H is a group of young people who, with the help of a leader explore new and exciting avenues of knowledge. The group members choose the projects they wish to work on and together help set the goals they want to work toward. By working with others, the members learn leadership qualities, poise and self-confidence, while having fun and making friends. The 4-H Club is open to all persons between the ages of 9 and 19.

Volunteer leaders are needed to share their knowledge with the members in the clubs. They help guide the group members in planning their projects and supervising their work. There is no age limit and all adults who are interested are encouraged to volunteer their time to help. If you are interested, contact Mrs. Vi (E.R.) Burns, Grayling 4-H Community Leader. Her telephone number is 348-8964.
